WOMAN WITH A PISTOL.

Mrs. Grace Dequelio, who is well known in Mount Vernon, N. Y, as a church worker, created a sensation Tuesday night at 9 o'clock by climbing on the roof of the veranda of her home at 302 south Sixth avenue and firing several shots from a big revolver down the street. One of the builets pierced a tree in front of the home of George Sievens, and another grazed the head of a woman who was passing.

Mrs. D. quelin's act is said to have been due to the delusion that her husband, with whom she had quarreled, was about to take her two children away from her. She is the wife of Rene Dequelio, a Frenchman, who is employed as an expert decorator by the Tiffany Company in New York. They own a pretty home and are reputed well to do. The home is near the Westchester Wheelmen's clubhouse and the shooting attracted a crowd of cyclists and residents of the neighborhood. They found Mrs. Dequelin still on the roof, to her night dress, with the smoking pistol in her hand. Her ousband was in the yard, gesticu-lating to keep everybody out of the way.

"Look out!" shouted he. "The woman is crezy, and she may shoot

In the meantime a telephone metsage had been sent to Police Headquarters. When Detective Lynch arived at the house Dequelin and some of the neighbors had got Mrs. Dequelin oack into her room and had taken the pistol from her. Mr. Dequelin said hat his wife was under the care of her physician. Her mind, he said, had been unbalanced for years, and al-hough she talked rationally at times he was likely to become dangerous at ov moment. Mrs. Dequelin is 35 years old. She was formerly Miss Grace Tibble, or Philadelphia. She was married to Dequelin, it is said, in opposition to the wishes of her parents and relatives. The couple have two children, a girl, 9 years old, and a boy of 7. Mrs. Dequelin says that her married life has een unhappy. She asserts that her ausband on Monday night had locked aer in her room. "He had threatened to leave me and ake the children," said she Tuesday, and I supposed he was about to carry his piacs into execution. I was so wrought up that I seized his revolver and began to fire, hoping it would at ract the neighbors. I thank God that he bullets did not hit any one."

Dequelin admits that he locked his wife in the room, but says he did so to force her to retire, as she was nervous and needed sieep. He will have an in-quiry made into her mental condition.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED. --Amos Shallcross, whose age is 13 years, disappeared from his luxurious home in Philadelphia, on October 11 last. Because of the fact that when his fath r oft something akin to half a million dollars when he died a short time ago, the theory that young Amos may have been abducted to be held for ransom, as was Charley Ross almost a genera-tion ago, has been advanced. The police are inclined to the opinion that the boy has struck out on his own account and that he will be glad to seck the shelter of his home when the littlmoney he had in his possession on the day of his disappearance runs out. There is a theory that the lad has gone
